Fact #1: Modern-day vaccines have their roots in Nazi medical experiments

Most United States citizens would opt out of getting vaccines if they understood that natural foods, vitamins, herbs and supplements build up the immune system enough to fight off almost any disease known to mankind. For 70 plus years, the pharmaceutical industry (Big Pharma) has succeeded at its malicious money-making schemes, despite a well-documented history full of horrific lessons.

In 2006, the Public Readiness and Emergency Preparedness Act (PREP) was signed into law by the Bush Administration, giving the U.S. Government the power to declare a "national emergency" for any infectious disease they claim is spreading and therefore require mandatory vaccinations for the entire population of the United States. In other words, U.S. citizens can now be denied their constitutional right of choice and be force-vaccinated or face jail time for being a "threat to national security," all without trial, and without any legal representation. (<http://www.infowars.com>)

Auschwitz, the largest German concentration camp of WWII, was the ideal "guinea pig" testing arena for dangerous pharmaceutical drugs and vaccines created by IG Farben (a very powerful cartel that consisted of German chemical and pharmaceutical companies such as BASF, Bayer, and Hoechst). Jewish prisoners of war would not be able to "sue" the government, so inhumane testing ensued. By vaccinating Jews, homosexuals, and anyone who denied the political views of the Nazi's (including children), Hitler was isolating his "master race" by sickening, weakening, or killing opposition, with a passive and silent terror campaign through vaccinations and nerve gas. (<http://www.holocaustresearchproject.org/economics/igfarben.html>)

Nazi Germany wasn't a conspiracy theory, it was real, but people underestimated the movement as it rose up, and look what happened. Before and during the war, the Nazi's tested Jews the same way we test and breed animals (including the ones we eat) in the United States today. How are GMO (pesticide-laden) foods which cause cancer so different from pushing dangerous, chemical laden vaccines (like swine and flu shots) on humans? And how similar were the Nazi concentration camp conditions to the conditions we find many animals living in today - trapped in a horror story from birth to miserable death - also known as Concentrated (or Confined) Animal Feeding Operations (CAFOs)?

There is a war going on today for chemical-free food and water, and a war for personal liberties that allow citizens the right to have GMO foods labeled, and to opt out of vaccinations. It's been only 70 years since World War II, and the mad scientists didn't just go away, they went to work for corporations and pharmaceutical companies that run the vaccine and food industries now. Their heirs are continuing the "tradition" of making money by any means, with complete disregard for human sanctity.

Right now in the USA, poisonous foods and vaccines cross over moral and ethical barriers regarding basic humanity and the welfare of mankind. The United States has become a testing arena for Big Pharma's dangerous vaccines and pharmaceuticals. Ingredients in vaccines include toxins and carcinogens known to cause adverse reactions that are severe and sometimes fatal.

- Most vaccines go virtually untested and success rates are based strictly on results from testing animals in a laboratory.
- Many vaccines contain thimerosal, a preservative made with methyl mercury, which is extremely toxic to the central nervous system.
- Many vaccines contain chemical adjuvants, like squalene, which cause inflammation of the central nervous system.
- Autism is a neurological disorder. Vaccine ingredients break down peptides in the body which regulate the CNS, severely disrupting specific high cognitive functions and processes all characteristic of autism.
- Rates of autism have doubled in past decade.
- More than 1 in every 100 children in the U.S. are diagnosed with autism, which is the highest rate of any population in all of history.
- H1N1 vaccine greatly enhanced health risks for elderly, children, and those with heart disease, breathing issues and diabetes.
- The main group of scientists who convinced the World Health Organization to declare the H1N1 a "pandemic" had financial ties to the drug companies that profited.
- Australia banned flu vaccines in children after reports of seizures, and Finland banned H1N1 vaccines after linking them to narcolepsy in children.
- Injecting genetically modified bacteria and viruses runs the risk of causing a cytokine storm in the body, which is an exaggerated immune system response to a highly pathogenic invader. When a cytokine storm occurs in the lungs, fluids and immune cells accumulate and eventually block off the airways, often resulting in death.

For most of modern mankind, medical experiments are envisioned as happening in a laboratory environment with use of rats and mice, but modern Western medicine has devolved into a money making scheme which outsmarts the general public and uses them as the mice. Therefore, in the way that Hitler's evil pharmaceutical regime "flew under the radar" of so many powerful countries, so has allopathic medicine today.

Fact #2: Over 75% of physicians in the world
refuse chemotherapy for themselves!

Doctors used to think that if they drained a sick person's blood it would purge the "evil" infection or disease right out of the body, but all that did was make the ill person much weaker, unable to fight off whatever was invading their body, and the patient was then highly likely to lose the battle for life, and in less time.

Research using polls and questionnaires continue to show that 3 of every 4 doctors and scientists would refuse chemotherapy for themselves due to its devastating effects on the entire body and the immune system, and because of its extremely low success rate. On top of that, only 2 to 4% of all cancers even respond to chemotherapy or prove to be "life extending," yet it is prescribed across the board for just about every kind of cancer.

Polls were taken by accomplished scientists at the McGill Cancer Center from 118 doctors who are all experts on cancer. They asked the doctors to imagine they had cancer and to choose from six different "experimental" therapies. These doctors not only denied chemo choices, but they said they wouldn't allow their family members to go through the process either! What does that say about their true opinion of this archaic method?

These surveys are having a profound effect on the general public opinion of chemo treatments in most of Western society, especially the United States, which uses more than any nation in the world. This lack of trust by doctors is spilling over to patients, and the move towards natural remedies is increasing, much the way it did in the early 1900's, before the dawn of corrupt medicine, pharmaceuticals, and radiation.

An elevated level of toxicity is actually the last thing any human being needs when fighting infection, disease, or pneumonia.

Autoimmune disorders are mainly caused when humans ingest chemicals from food, drinking water, vaccines contaminated with chemicals, artificial sweeteners and environmental pollution. Chemotherapy, like the popular Cis-platinum, fills the body with horrific toxins, and doctors and scientists know it, but because the FDA outlaws doctors from suggesting or prescribing vitamins, supplements, herbs and super-foods, chemical therapy is still "recommended."

The way to beat cancer is to detoxify your body and build up your host immune system, not break it down further by dousing one tumor or one organ with chemicals that pollute the entire system. Put it this way, if an elderly person had an injured toe and it needed a cold compress to help heal it, would you submerge the senior in a freezing pool of water repeatedly for days, and then wait for the toe to heal? Doctors know how absurd the ideology of chemotherapy really is, but when a society bases the bulk of its therapy on chronic care management, the doctors are silently coerced into suggesting it or finding another profession.

Chemotherapy shows very little success with common solid tumors that occur in the colon, lung and breasts, as documented over the past decade, yet somehow doctors still push "chemo" to attempt to stave off tumors and malignant growths in these areas of the body.

Could it be some extreme coincidence that although 75% of doctors would refuse chemotherapy for themselves and their family members, they still prescribe it for 75% of their patients? The costly price of chemo and the likelihood of Big Pharma "kickbacks" is screaming the answer "no."

At best, chemotherapy should be considered alternative treatment, but for over 70 years Allopathic medicine has warped the public perception of true medicine, so if you happen to get cancer and your doctor tells you what to do, you may want to ask him/her if they would do the same thing for themselves and their family members.

Fact #3: The FDA suppressed a natural cure for cancer for 30 years

In the 1970's, Dr. Stanislaw Burzynski found a non-toxic gene-targeting cure for even the most lethal forms of cancer, and he began a war with Western Medicine over a virtually free way to heal one of the most expensive "diseases" and money making schemes ever known to mankind. It's a wonder the FDA did not have Burzynski assassinated, although financially speaking, that's exactly what they did to him for 30 years.

There is no single scientist in the world who can take down the cancer scam industry, which earns itself in excess of one hundred billion dollars every year. The FDA is one of the most corrupt organizations on the planet, and unless your parents, uncles and aunts are all Supreme Court Justices, you won't beat the FDA lawyers in court. When Burzynski succeeded at winning some of his battles (not the war) against the FDA, his home was raided by them, along with one Dr. David Kessler, and they seized all 12,000 of Burzynski's patient records and kept them from him for 8 years.

The FDA wants cancer victims to die a slow, expensive death

Innocent Americans who were being cured of "terminal cancer" were suddenly deprived of Burzynski's antineoplastons treatment, a combination of phenylacetate and phenylacetyl-glutamine (proteins and amino acids), and many of them died. Antineoplastons cured even gliomas, the lethal cancerous tumors which attach themselves to the spinal cord and/or the brain. Burzynski cured over 40 kinds of cancer, including breast, bladder, lung, and terminal brain cancer.

The documentary film, called Burzynski: Cancer Is Serious Business, takes you from start to finish, explaining how this genius proved he could cure cancer patients who had already been through the maximum chemo and radiation treatments the ruthless American system could dole out. His patients, children and adults, testified in court that his natural medicines had cured them, but the FDA still shut Burzynski down. The arguments in court weren't even over whether his treatment worked or not, which it obviously did. The contention the FDA had was that Burzynski was shipping his meds over state and international lines.

The United States Government, The Texas Medical Board, the FDA and PhRMA took on Stanislaw Burzynski, MD, PhD, persecuting the cancer healer falsely and eventually stealing his patent. By leaving out most of the key ingredients in the antineoplaston formula, the FDA ran their own fraudulent clinical trials and posted data showing the "patented" natural cure as a "big hoax." The American Medical Association (AMA) has been calling doctors who find natural cures "quacks" for 80 years, and the FDA used the same old trick on Burzynski.

But Dr. Burzynski may go down in history as the most resilient and persistent doctor, and he was able to reveal the fabricated FDA research when he found data which they posted which revealed they had diluted his formula intentionally so it would fail. (<http://www.cancertutor.com/Other/NoCancer13.html>)

Finally in 1993, Burzynski won in court because the medical board had no case, including no expert witnesses. Still the FDA pressure continued into 1995, sending the doctor summons to reappear for the same charges, over and over, wasting U.S. taxpayer dollars by the millions. Jurors from previous cases were astounded and actually showed up on the courthouse steps to talk to the press about the absurdity of the FDA. Part of the whole scandal involved the Mayo clinic and Sloan Kettering, who lied to Burzynski, saying they had only 8 patients who fit the "protocol" for his cures when actually 2,000 people were literally dying in waiting.

Then, believe it or not, Burzynski was finally indicted in 1996. The trial cost U.S. taxpayers $60 million. This is where your money goes when you donate to the wrong funds, like the ACS (American Cancer Society), NCI (National Cancer Institute) or Susan G. Komen foundation. It helps the U.S. Government shut down natural cures. Think of that next time you get invited to a "pink ribbon" function.

Fact #4: Pearl Harbor was the catapult
for the development of huge medical and pharmaceutical corporations, auspiciously similar to the 9/11 tragedy

On June 24, 1938, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed into law the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, allowing the FDA authority over all drugs by mandating pre-market review and banning "unchecked" therapeutic claims on labels. This meant complete control of the expensive approval process of medicine, boosting the pharmaceutical industry's power to an unprecedented level.

Three years later, on December 7, 1941, twenty one American ships auspiciously exploded in the port of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, killing 2,388 Americans and the U.S. immediately entered World War II. Conveniently, the three most important aircraft carriers were not in the port, but had been moved to another location, and the infamous "radio silence" of the Japanese fighter pilots that went down in the history books turned out to be a massive lie.

On January 20, 2000, the 43rd President of the U.S., George W. Bush, was inaugurated and immediately appointed his "right hand man" Donald Rumsfeld as Secretary of Defense. Rumsfeld, the former CEO of Searle Pharmaceutical, was one of the most powerful and manipulative players in the world of the "Big Pharma" racket.

On September 11, 2001, just 20 months later, three of the most popular buildings in the world crumbled to the ground demolition style (<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zv7BlmVvEyK>) in New York City, killing over 3,000 Americans. Rumsfeld was crucial in planning the United States' response to the "attacks," and shortly thereafter the U.S. conveniently waged "pre-emptive" wars in Iraq and Afghanistan.

Invoking War for Money

The "Industrial War Complex" is nothing new. You may have heard before that war is "good" for the economy, but the truth is, war is good for the politicians who have financial interests in the companies that profit from it directly. Following both World War II and the latest Wars in the Middle East, the statistics can't lie about the dramatic increase in demand for treating mental and emotional problems, usually referred to as Post Traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD), which led to a massive windfall of profits for leading pharmaceutical companies. Is it just a massive coincidence?

Hauntingly familiar situations and U.S. Government reactions in both scenarios alert intelligent, rational citizens that American politics is not about writing legislation and fulfilling the democratic dream, but is rather deeply entrenched in profiting from a "guaranteed" scheme of starting wars and then treating the masses with expensive drugs that rack up a fortune in profits for the elite few who are "wielding the sickle." (http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=amC4I_gCl10)

Fact and Figures

- Over 70% of Americans believed Saddam Hussein was behind the 9/11 attacks and history proves now that he was not, and furthermore, Saddam did not have weapons of mass destruction.
- FDR's General Marshall and the Secretary of State named the day of Pearl Harbor one week before the attack.
- George W. Bush was caught on film with a very nonchalant, indifferent reaction when the secret service whispered in his ear in a school classroom that we had been attacked by terrorists. (<http://topdocumentaryfilms.com/fahrenheit-911/>)
- Pre-WWII pharmaceutical giants Merck, Squibb, Lilly and Pfizer propelled penicillin production and gained support from the federal government, holding the CMR penicillin conference in New York just ten days after Pearl Harbor.
- Dick Cheney and Donald Rumsfeld made personal fortunes in the tens of millions from monopolizing contract work in Iraq and from the sale of drugs used to treat military personnel and hired civilians who suffered injuries and traumatic stress from the Wars in the Middle East.
- Quarterly earnings of the biggest oil and gas corporations surged after the U.S. invasions of Afghanistan and Iraq, exceeding the largest gains in 30 years, with Exxon ranking #1 in total profits. Under Bush, the passage of an oil law to split revenues with the Kurds was a crucial benchmark to the U.S. profiting from the War in Iraq. (<http://www.nytimes.com>)
- Robert Stinnett, decorated WWII veteran, published his 1999 book, "Day of Deceit: The Truth about FDR and Pearl Harbor," revealing that FDR not only knew about the attack in advance, but that his Administration put Japan in an economic chokehold before the war, inciting the "open back door" attack.
- Before 9/11, in 1999, Monsanto merged with the Big Pharma giant Pharmacia, which conveniently absorbed the enormous drug division R.D. Searle, creating a new Monsanto agrochemical (GMO) and biotech subsidiary.

- On October 7, 1940, Lieutenant Commander Arthur H. McCollum recommended in a memorandum (the McCollum Memo) that the U.S. provoke the Japanese into attacking America, so the American people would change their stance on the war and support the forthcoming "retaliation."
- In the wake of the 9/11 "terrorist attacks," Bush actively pursued the addition of a prescription drug benefit for Medicare recipients.
- The cleanup of all debris from Pearl Harbor and from the 9/11 destruction in New York were suspiciously cleaned up in a huge rush and no debris was ever analyzed by the U.S. Government. (<http://911review.com/motive/profits.html>)
- The actual jumpstart of Big Pharma was marred by the "elixir sulfanilamide disaster of 1937," leading to the involvement of the FDA in the pharmaceutical regime and FDR's "Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act" just one year later.
- Rumsfeld was the Chair of the Board of Directors at Gilead Sciences before being named to the Bush cabinet. Gilead Sciences patented and pushed the drug Tamiflu, the "wonderously popular" flu drug that swept across America, generating billions in profit. Of course, "Rummy" Rumsfeld still holds major shares of Gilead stock.

What is pharmaceutical terrorism?

The backbone of Western Medicine is primarily supported by prescription medication, chemotherapy and radiation treatments. These forms of "medicine" are very expensive, patentable, and manipulated by the Government, the FDA, the media, and Big Pharma. For seventy years, the American public has been coerced into making choices between different toxins which are propped up and highly recommended as mainstream medicine, and all forms of natural healing have either been labeled as Alternative (risky) or as a form of "quackery."

There is a reason why school curriculums and history books focus on rote memory skills and close-ended, multiple choice test questions - the Government does not want a lot of deep thinking, critical researchers looking into the facts of history, which, thanks to Google and the Freedom of Information Act, are now readily available.

Fact #5: The former Chairman of Bayer, the same company that makes children's aspirin, was found guilty of Nazi war crimes and sentenced to prison

I.G. Farben was a powerful cartel comprised of Bayer, BASF, Hoechst, and other German chemical companies which experimented mercilessly on Jewish prisoners as Hitler commanded, inside the World War II Auschwitz Concentration Camp, testing dangerous drugs and vaccines and killing thousands. In fact, Auschwitz was the largest mass extermination factory in human history (<http://www.nizkor.org/faqs/auschwitz/auschwitz-faq-06.html>).

Ironically, just two weeks after Germany's unconditional surrender, the designer of the Nazi guided missile, Herbert Wagner, arrived in Washington D.C. This was the beginning of the mass influx of "mad scientists" who would go to work in the United States for a mission called "Project Paperclip," headed up by President Roosevelt to supposedly "exploit the knowledge of Nazi scientists."

A few years later, the Nuremberg War Criminal Tribunal convicted 24 of the I.G. Farben executives for mass murder, slavery and other crimes against humanity; however, in less than 7 years, every single murderer was released, and began consulting American corporations. From 1950 to 1980, Bayer, BASF, and Hoechst filled their highest position, Chairman of the Board, with convicted mass murderers.

Currently, each of the three IG Farben "daughter" companies is far more powerful than Farben ever was during World War II. Today, these companies send lobbyists to Washington D.C. with millions (if not billions) of dollars to influence regulatory decisions made by the FDA.

Fritz ter Meer, convicted of mass murder, served just 5 prison years, then "conveniently" became the chairman of Bayer's supervisory board.

Carl Wurster of BASF helped manufacture Zyklon-B gas, the powerful pesticide used to execute millions of Jews. He knew the use of this product was for annihilation, and his partners in crime were convicted and hanged in 1946.

Arthur Rudolph, director of the concentration camp where 20,000 Jewish and Polish workers died from beatings, hangings and starvation, was granted U.S. citizenship and went on to design the Saturn 5 rocket used in the Apollo moon landings.

Kurt Blome, who admitted to killing Jews with "gruesome experiments," was hired in 1951 by the U.S. Army Chemical Corps to work on chemical warfare.

Big Pharma's evil seeds, which the FDA calls medicine, were first planted in the United States 65 years ago. Many of the "mad scientists" who tortured innocent human beings in the Holocaust were hired and promoted by U.S. Presidents to catapult what we call "Western Medicine," and its ultimate goal of creating sickness and then treating its symptoms for profit (http://www.sourcewatch.org/index.php?title=Rockefeller_Foundation).

The "chronic care management and disease business" of America is growing rapidly. Take a good look at all the pharmaceutical advertisements on television. These are synthetic, untested chemical drugs and aluminum-laden vaccines pushed on the American public like candy, with side effects much worse than the condition they are supposed to treat.

Convenience and perpetuated myths drive the growth of Western Medicine

Simply put, most Americans under-estimate the power of the FDA and Big Pharma's mission to control medicine and make their billions at any cost, and prescription drugs, flu shots and vaccines that are prominent in advertisements that "seem normal" are culprits of bad health and disease. Ultimately, convenience and perpetuated myths have driven the masses to consider these corporate scams and experiments as part of their normal array of choices for products, medicines, and treatments.

If you're still looking to cure your migraine headaches with "extra strength medicine," your first step should be to avoid buying anything sold by a company which hires mass murderers as their CEO's and head scientists. Then review your eating and drinking habits. It could just be that the MSG in your food and the Aspartame in your diet drinks and gum are what's causing those headaches in the first place.

Put it this way, if the aspirin container had a label that read, "Warning; the former Chairman of Bayer was a convicted serial killer," would you still give it to your child?

Fact #6: In 1936, Camel's advertisement in Life Magazine claimed cigarettes improved digestion, "It's smart to have camels on the table."

For over 75 years, cigarettes have been pushed on the American masses through advertisements on television, radio, in magazines, and on billboards, but few people realize that the initial "evil seeds of thought" were planted in the 1930's, when Camel convinced smokers that cigarettes aid in digestion, beginning and perpetuating a myth that's about to be completely discredited.

The year was 1936, and the horribly misleading Camel advertisement recommended smoking at least one cigarette between each course of your Thanksgiving dinner "for digestion's sake." The ad was FDA approved and appeared in Life Magazine, and was intended to infuse a psychological addiction that convinced smokers they could build up a sense of "digestive well-being." Camel used convincing tag lines saying they, "Never tire the taste or get on the nerves," and (Camels) "Speed up the flow of digestive fluids," "Increase alkalinity," and "Help your digestion to run smoothly," and of course, "Good food and tobacco go together naturally!" (<http://www.buzzfeed.com/bitedaily/smoking-camels-help-digestion-according-to-life-18op>)

How many smokers still believe today that it aids in digestion? Nearly every smoker, if asked, will tell you they enjoy a cigarette after meals, but it's actually the breathing pattern (long inhale, hold, long exhale) that a smoker enters into when they light up that relaxes them, but most smokers fail to realize it. Let's be very clear here, nicotine does not aid in digestion, and neither do the other 4,000 chemicals in commercial cigarettes. In fact, cigarettes are one of the most detrimental and systemically damaging legal substances you can consume.

Every inhaled puff of smoke contains free radicals which inflict damage on every system in the body, especially the digestive track and the intestines. Smoking increases the risk of Crohn's disease, gallstones, peptic ulcers and liver disease. The chemicals bond to the walls of healthy tissue in the esophagus, windpipe, and stomach, disordering DNA and causing the cells to degrade.

According to the American Diabetes Association, cigarette smoking has "demonstrable effects on blood sugar," making type two diabetes more likely. Smoking also ages the tissues of the pancreas, which creates defects in the digestive system. Smoking impairs the lymphatic and immune system, which damages the soft tissue lining of the small intestine. That's why colon cancer is prominent in smokers.

Although the liver doesn't seem like part of the digestive system, it actually filters the nutrients and toxins from the blood, in a process called first-pass metabolism. Smoking severely constricts this liver blood flow. After long term use of nicotine, the body becomes dependent on it, recycling toxins back to the liver, and the result is constipation. The more you smoke, the worse it gets. The only solution is to get off nicotine and detoxify the liver, so e-cigarettes won't help.

In 1970, Congress passed the Public Health Cigarette Smoking Act, banning the advertising of cigarettes on TV and radio, but smokeless tobacco ads remained on the air until 1986. After 1971, tobacco ads were only in magazines, newspapers and on billboards. In 2010, new regulations prohibit tobacco companies from sponsoring certain types of events, or putting their logos on hats and t-shirts. Everyone has seen the warning from the Surgeon General on packages, but obviously the mission to prevent young people from smoking didn't work. (http://www.classictvads.com/smoke_2.shtml)

Unethical advertising by Camel and other major brands continues today, despite regulations to the contrary. Children and teens still recognize the Marlboro Man and Joe Camel as being "cool," and women have consistently been a target market for cigarette advertising, pushing the tall and slim look. The problem is that even if you're tall and slim, you still get the same kind of cancer.

The celebrity Sammy Davis, Jr. was a smoker who died in 1990 of throat cancer. In his final years, he courageously made several public service announcements about the evils of smoking, but unfortunately, he forgot to tell everyone that cigarettes do not aid in digestion.

Fact #7: The 40 year long "Voice of American Medicine" was a quack himself!

The infamous "Doctor" Morris Fishbein was head of the American Medical Association (AMA) and the editor of the AMA's Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) for 25 years. He later became the founding Editor of Medical World News, an influential magazine for doctors. Morris Fishbein operated the AMA for the sole purpose of dominating medicine and discrediting anything he could not control. He was notorious for calling the very scientists who discovered natural cures "quacks," and convincing the medical community that he was right.

In 1924, the director of AMA got caught in a scandal, and appointed his scandalous friend, one Morris Fishbein, to take his place. Within 10 years, Fishbein owned nearly all of AMA's stock. He immediately began coercing doctors who wanted to "belong to their county medical society" to join the new state association, and from there the AMA increased its membership to include a majority of physicians. Anyone who refused could lose their license to practice medicine. Fishbein was essentially the "dictator" of the AMA for more than twenty years, until he got ousted himself by the state delegations of doctors. Morris would continue living for 30 years. Thanks to Morris Fishbein, the AMA still has its stranglehold on Western Medicine today.

The AMA is supposed to be a "nonprofit" agency, but is best remembered for pushing cigarettes on the American public, beginning back in the 1930's. Fishbein went so far as to advise cigarette manufactures how to conduct "acceptable scientific testing" to validate massive lies about how certain cigarette brands were healthy choices, even choices that doctor's make! All this took place in the face of research during the 1930's that directly associated smoking with lung cancer.

Fishbein would win landmark court cases that helped bury natural cures for decades. In fact, rather than practicing medicine, he made silencing cures his profession. The word quack became the corporate code word for alternative medicine, and it worked. This powerful, evil mix of psychology and marketing created a stage for corporate medicine, and the masses just fell in line.

Fishbein was also a master of manipulation, and he masterminded a scam where he determined which products were "fit" to carry the AMA's new "seal of acceptance". In exchange, Big Pharma paid big bucks to Fishbein behind closed doors, which generated big revenue from the "quality" branding and favored placement in the AMA publications.

Without regard to morals or ethics in medicine, the Voice of American Medicine would begin instilling a false security in the invasive and dangerous "mainstream" methods of treating cancer, and everything else would be considered risky alternatives or be declared illegal. Quickly, the synthetic drug industry became more and more entrenched within the U.S. medical system.

Was Fishbein really a doctor? Yes, and he did graduate from Medical school, but he never practiced medicine a day in his life. Rather, he focused on stifling cures and stealing intellectual property by controlling and manipulating the information he deemed the American public was "ready" to understand, which was similar to how the U.S. citizens were completely misinformed about the massive failures during the Vietnam War due to manipulation of information.

Fishbein and the AMA buried at least a dozen encouraging cancer treatments over several decades. Fishbein's legacy is tainted with corruption. Thanks to him, most people haven't even heard of Royal Rife and the Rife frequency machine, which was an amazingly effective, holistic treatment for cancer and other infectious diseases. Fishbein shut down Harry Hoxsey, who ran the world's largest private cancer center in Dallas in the 1950's. Even the FDA admitted in court that Hoxsey's natural treatments cured several forms of cancer, and were comparable to surgery and radium, without the destructive side effects.

Morris Fishbein was later convicted of racketeering charges, but since the reign of Fishbein, the AMA's financial existence still relies heavily on the revenue received from advertising mostly dangerous, synthetic pharmaceuticals in various medical journals.

With reckless disregard, the AMA pushes anything and everything that pays the bills. One JAMA journal ad actually printed these words, "Patients with coughs were instructed to change to Philip Morris cigarettes". How big was that payoff?

The pharmaceutical cartels' monopoly

The AMA is responsible for the licensing of all doctors in America. They play the ultimate role in suppressing alternative treatments by networking with the ACS and FDA in identifying and punishing doctors that "step out of line." Make no mistake, there never was a determined, no holds-barred war on cancer. Although the Natural Cures war has been waged for centuries, there's no "defeating" the $110 billion a year cancer industry run by the American Medical Association. Linus Pauling, two times Nobel Prize winner, once said, "Everyone should know that most cancer research is largely a fraud."

Today, the AMA continues to make decisions which protect corporations and their ultimate goal of "expensive chronic care management," instead of protecting patients and their rights to ethical treatment. The AMA supports prescription drugs, which are killing 100,000 Americans every year, including children. Right now prescription drugs with horrible side effects dominate the pages of JAMA, and "Mainstream Medicine" is still fooling at least half of America, and that AMA seal still carries all that weight!

When considering the history of medicine, if you remember anything other than the name Morris Fishbein, remember that Harry Hoxsey and Royal Rife were legendary in finding cures for cancer, and if you look deep enough, history proves it. As Jonathan Swift once said, "When a true genius appears in this world, you may know him by this sign - that the dunces are all in confederacy against him."

Fact #8: Water
fluoridation began in the U.S. in 1945
and continues today, despite the fact that the FDA has never even approved it

The year before water fluoridation began in the United States, the entire dental profession recognized that fluoride was detrimental to dental health. In fact, in 1944 the Journal of the American Dental Association reported that using between 1.6 and 4 ppm (parts per million) fluoride in water would cause 50% of adults to need false teeth. On top of that, the world's largest study looked at 400,000 students, revealing that tooth decay increased in over 25% with just 1ppm fluoride in drinking water. (<http://www.healthy-communications.com>)

Yet still, in 1945, fluoride was put into municipal water systems in Newburgh, New York, and Grand Rapids, Michigan. Over the next 50 years, more than 60 percent of the U.S. population was "fluoridated" at a minimum of 1 ppm. Currently, over 75% of the United States water supply contains this deadly toxin.

One part of the hoax, "fluoride helps with tooth formation," was removed from the "American Fluoride Campaign" early on. Realizing this might expose the entire campaign as fraudulent, the FDA and CDC simply removed that language, but kept the masses believing that fluoride keeps dental cavities at bay.

Over 70% of America still clings to the multi-faceted myth

Research proves that fluoride is an extremely neurotoxic chemical which interrupts basic functions of nerve cells in the brain and can lead to Alzheimer's, atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), infertility, birth defects, diabetes, cancer and lowered IQ. The aluminum "tricks" the blood-brain barrier and allows chemical access to brain tissue.

Think fluoride is used by the rest of the world? France, Germany, Japan, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Finland, India and Great Britain have all rejected its use after special commissions and health secretaries reviewed the negative evidence.

Think fluoride cleanses the water? Fluoride is one of the basic ingredients in military nerve gas. Sodium fluoride is a hazardous waste by-product from the manufacture of aluminum and fertilizer, and it is a common ingredient in roach and rat poisons.

Think fluoride fights cavities and strengthens bones? Dental fluorosis is often caused by over-exposure to fluoride when the dental enamel is mineralizing during childhood. Fluoride is unique in its ability among acids to penetrate tissue, causing soft tissue damage and bone erosion as it leaches calcium and magnesium from the body. (<http://tuberose.com/Fluoride.html>)

Think fluoride evaporates from water? Fluoride does not evaporate from water left sitting out. Also,boiling or freezing won't help at all, and basic filters like Brita do not remove it. Reverse osmosis does remove it, and natural spring water does not contain it.

Because the ADA maintains a stranglehold on the dental profession, no dentists are ever openly critical of fluoride. The ADA can influence State Dental Boards which can take away a dentist's license, so you won't hear anything negative about it from your dentist. Most brands of toothpaste contain at least 1,000 ppm fluoride, so if a child were to eat an entire tube, he/she would die.

Fluoride has never received FDA approval and does not meet "requirements of safety and effectiveness." The FDA states that fluoride is a prescription drug. Because this "drug" is put in municipal water, there is absolutely no control over individual dosage.

So, why on earth would the USA's regulatory agencies allow such a nightmare to perpetuate? In the early 1900's, when important vitamins (like B12) were discovered and natural remedies became popular, medicine was basically unprofitable. Fluoridation was a planned experiment of mass medication to induce diseases that would later be "treated" with expensive healthcare, and that is why government paid healthcare in America is nothing but a pipe dream.

Fact #9: In 1955, an ad in Life Magazine read, "Science shows how sugar can help keep your appetite and weight under control."

On October 10th, 1955, several big lies about sugar were infused into the minds of the American public via Life Magazine, and what would follow were generations of the shifting of food modification and supply to meet the demands of ill-informed consumers. Full page, color ads ran in major magazines such as Life, Newsweek, and Time. Rich and famous people made claims that the public completely bought into. It was a time when nutrition, science and health were treated with distortion and manipulation, and the infamous sugar industry itself was claiming that sugar was not fattening.

The advertisement in Life Magazine actually had tag lines that read, "Lose weight naturally, eat white sugar." Another slogan told another bold faced lie,

"And sugar can help you cut down on the only kind of calories that can make you fat - they are the ones that come from overeating."

When and how did all the nutritional lies start? Who perpetuated the myths that still trap minds today? Following WWI, America began a demographic shift from rural life on farms to the inner city life because the factories lured people into urban areas. The food supply began to morph into nutrient depleted, processed forms as science began revealing short cuts that would help foods of commerce widen profit margins. The food supply became mostly bleached, refined, sterilized, pasteurized, homogenized, hydrogenated, artificially flavored and colored, highly sugared and salted, synthetically "fortified" or "enriched," canned, and full of man-made chemicals for longer shelf life, but shorter human life.

Of course, myths had to be perpetuated to get the public to buy into everything, and not question the short or the long term detrimental effects to health and happiness. Each and every lie carried a slogan which advertised the synthetic food agent or the indulgence's greatest weakness as its strength. It was reverse psychology at its best, and it worked.

The FDA and federal courts issued gag orders on a man named Royal Lee and his lectures on nutrition, which included natural cures for cancer, but there were no restrictions whatsoever regarding ads that said smoking cigarettes and eating white sugar were good for you.

Another horrible lie in the Life Magazine Ad read, "It doesn't matter where the calories come from, 'steak or apple pie'." They even included fabricated research information, "According to a study at a leading university: When they're blood sugar levels were elevated there was less sensation of hunger" (In actuality, it's just the opposite). Also, if that wasn't enough to win you over, you just needed to keep reading, "And if you maintain your present weight, isn't it good to know that sugar helps to count your calories for you?"

Are you an average consumer of 150 lbs of sugar per year?

In the early 1900's, the average American consumed only 12 pounds of sugar in a year. Now, according to USDA statistics, including high fructose consumption, that figure is over 150 pounds per person! Refined carbohydrates are a hidden source of sugar. These empty calories, consumed on a regular basis, leave the body without the materials it needs to maintain proper function, leading to chronic disease.

Was this the sugar industry's ultimate goal since the 1950's? Are educated consumers beginning to wake up to the fact that the FDA, the CDC, and the commercial food industry in America purposely sicken United States citizens in order to profit from a useless healthcare industry, chock full of pharmaceuticals and toxic vaccines? Common sense and libraries full of research say yes.

Fact #10: Vitamins and minerals were found to cure disease
100 years ago, but
Western Medicine outlawed any mention of it

It's only been 100 years since the discovery of some of the most vital nutrients humans and animals need for maintaining health and preventing sickness, yet mainstream doctors will not recommend them. How did everything get so convoluted in just 5 generations? When did the Western masses stop believing in natural cures that are scientifically proven to work?

During the first few decades of the 1900's, U.S. medicine wasn't profitable. People were eating organic foods from farms where soil had no pesticides and wasn't depleted of nutrients. Scarce was a case of heart disease, cancer, diabetes, Alzheimer's or arthritis, and there were no "pharmaceutical" deaths.

In 1905, Dr. William Fletcher was researching Beriberi, when he discovered that if special factors (vitamins) were removed from food, disease occurred. By 1912, Deficiency Disease was discovered, and the general public would soon understand that a lack of vitamins could make you sick, and could eventually kill you.

Vitamin B12 was discovered by accident in an effort to cure pernicious anemia. Numerous scientists helped isolate B12 realizing that the disease was directly related to its deficiency. Elmer McCollum discovered vitamin A in 1912. At this time, scientists determined nutritional levels that kept cattle healthy, and discovered the absence of vitamins had detrimental effects. By 1916, experiments showed that fat-soluble vitamin A was necessary for normal growth, and by 1919, Edward Mellanby proved that rickets was caused by deficiencies of vitamin D and calcium.

Other important vitamin discoveries took place from 1920 to 1930, but by WWII the FDA realized the threat this information posed to the pharmaceutical industry, so the AMA called doctors "quacks" who used vitamins and minerals to cure disease. Soon, Americans began believing there were magic pills and vaccines for everything, and that you got all the vitamins and minerals you need from the infamous "four basic food groups."

Nutrient deficiency is the primary cause of the top four diseases in America

The best research available on these deficiencies comes from Dr. Joel D. Wallach, author of "Dead Doctors Don't Lie." Wallach grew up on a farm where his family fed cattle vitamins and trace minerals to prevent and cure disease. As a veterinarian he performed autopsies on 17,000 animals to find causes of natural death. After studying 500 species and making comparisons to

3,000 humans, he concluded that every mammal that dies of "natural causes" actually dies of "nutritional deficiency disease."

The average human lifespan in the U.S. is 75, yet doctors only live to be 62 (according to JAMA, 1994). Wallach says, thanks to pesticide ridden soil depleted of minerals, humans are robbed of half their life. He emphasizes, "We must take all the essential nutrients; 60 minerals, 16 vitamins, 12 essential amino acids, and 3 essential fatty acids as supplements daily if we want to live past a hundred. The body cannot manufacture essential nutrients, and if they're not in the soil, they're not in vegetables. In fact, if you're missing any one of these essential nutrients for several months, you're developing deficiency diseases.

Dr. Wallach says you have nothing to lose by supplementing, "It may cost you a dollar a day, but how much does disease cost you?" He compares pain to the red light on your dashboard, "The warning light means you are low on oil, or there's not enough coolant, etc." If you just pull over and deal with the problem, then you don't kill the engine; however, village idiots (uneducated Americans) who don't have time to deal with it "cut the wire and keep on driving" when they go to a doctor and get prescription painkillers to mask the symptoms. Without fortifying joints and bones, the doctor knows you'll be back with a chronic problem or a disease.

Vitamin B12 is needed for healthy red blood cells, healthy nerve cells, and to make DNA. Vitamin A is important for the immune system, helping cell membranes resist cancer and many other diseases.

Ever wonder why allopath physicians don't prescribe vitamins and minerals? There is no financial incentive for disease prevention, plus most doctors have little to no training in nutritional science. Don't be fooled by cheap "corporate" vitamins which may worsen health. This is Big Pharma making sure you don't get cured. Theragran M, One-a-day, Centrum and Equate are mainly unusable and synthetic, and include "other ingredients" which pollute the system.

Fact #11: In 1910 in the U.S., heart attacks barely existed, there was no such thing as Alzheimer's, and only 1 person in 100,000 had diabetes

The evolution of disease over the last 100 years is no mystery, in fact, the causes and the cures are glaring us all in the face. In just 5 generations, America has gone from nearly perfect health statistics to the leader in what should be termed simply "chronic lifestyle diseases." Heart failure is the leading cause of death in Western countries today, yet not a single case is on record that is more than 100 years old. In 1910, only 1 in 100,000 people had diabetes, and there was no such thing as Alzheimer's disease, yet there are nearly 30 million people in the U.S. who are diagnosed with either diabetes or "old timer's disease" right now, plus 80 million pre-diabetics.

(<http://www.diabetes.org/diabetes-basics/diabetes-statistics>)

Having doubts? Open the history books and look. Coronary heart disease barely existed in 1910, but by 1930, just one generation later, it was causing 3,000 deaths per year. By 1950, it was the leading cause of mortality in the United States, accounting for more than 30% of all deaths. In the grand 'ole U.S. of A, every other man will get cancer in his lifetime, and every third woman. What in the world could have changed the statistics so quickly and so drastically, just since our grandparent's grandparents were alive?

5 generations of planned deterioration of U.S. soil, food, water, and medicine

In 1910, one out of every three people in the United States lived on a farm and ate from their farm. Medicine was not a profitable industry. Today, only one percent of the U.S. population lives on a farm, and just how many of the other 99% actually buy food from farmers who do not infect it with pesticide, and who have soil which still feeds nutrients to those living fruits and vegetables that the body must have to stay fully functional? (<http://diabetes.diabetesjournals.org/content/51/12/3353.full>)

The ultimate research question to ask here is, "What lethal ingredients are Americans consuming regularly that sicken and kill over 65% of the population? Is it margarine, fluoride, pesticide, or high fructose corn syrup? It's all of the above, of course. And when did America start eating aluminum and injecting it by vaccine? Alzheimer's disease is a progressive neurological disease which leads to the loss of intellectual abilities, including memory and reasoning. Let's do the simple math here: aluminum plus fluoride equals warped brain cells. (<http://www.digitalnaturopath.com/cond/C70041.html>)

Most Americans consume chemicals daily. Processed food, genetically modified and pesticide-laden food, fluoridated water, and soy and corn products are staple diet for most, fueling disease in the quickest possible way. The cure for the "top 4" diseases is eating organic food from nutrient rich soil, drinking only spring water, and supplementing daily with all the essential nutrients: 60 minerals, 16 vitamins, 12 essential amino acids, and 3 essential fatty acids. The body cannot manufacture essential nutrients, so if they're not in the soil, they're not in the food.

World War III is happening: The organic vs. poisonous food war

There's a war on every day to eat and drink right, and supplement. New tricky ways of feeding the public "poisonous food" pop up every month, every year. Cardiovascular disease, cancer, Alzheimer's and diabetes will continue to be the top 4 "serial killers" in the USA as long as the masses keep eating dead food, smoking cigarettes, taking pharmaceutical drugs, and failing to exercise regularly.

Eating with reckless disregard and then hoping medicine and surgery will extend your life is like playing Russian roulette with half the chambers full, never knowing when that myocardial infarction (massive blood clot) will park itself near your heart or in your brain, and unnecessarily begin your "decomposition."

Fact #12: The NCI, ACS and FDA have worked together to suppress cancer cures since 1950

The United States has an evil "tri-fecta" which makes sure the masses are consuming foods which cause disease and receiving toxic chemicals as the so called "cure." This practice is not accidental nor some good intention gone awry. This political, economic and financial nightmare was thought up by U.S. politicians and greed-driven scientists sitting around think tables over 60 years ago.

Cancer treatment is a one hundred billion dollar industry annually. The National Cancer Institute (NCI), the American Cancer Society (ACS), and the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) are the ultimate "partners in crime," and their publishing catapult for misguided information has been none other than the AMA's (American Medical Association) JAMA (Journal of the American Medical Association), that "prestigious" journal all the Western doctors cling to for drug deals, which turn all their patients into "clients for life."

In order to understand how "alternative methods" became mainstream, and how proven natural cures became "alternative," true history must be dredged up and engaged.

Just after World War II, many of the Nazi scientists were released from prison (4 to 7 year terms for mass murder) and employed by U.S. corporations to design slow death food and medicine for the United States' chronic care management agenda.

What is the tri-fecta's ongoing evil mission? Feed the masses unlabeled GMO pesticide corn and soy, antibiotic and hormone laden animals, fluoridated water, high fructose corn syrup (HFCS), monosodium glutamate (MSG), and Aspartame. Then offer treatment choices: surgery, chemo, pharmaceuticals and radiation. Make no mistake: it's all planned.

When you donate money "for the cure," it is spent shutting down the actual cure

For starters, about half of the ACS board is comprised of oncologists and radiologists with a vested interest in the 4 slow death choices. Key officials often sit on each other's committees and receive grants from each other. Their job is to guarantee that funding for cancer research continues to keep America sick and dying. It's the "good ole boys network," and the politicians running for office right now know it.

Officially organized in the 1940's, the ACS was run by major pharmaceutical companies, and when President Nixon signed into law the "War on Cancer," the ACS became unstoppable. What happens to the hundreds of millions of dollars the ACS collects every year? When you donate money "for the cure", it goes to shutting down the cure! For six decades, the ACS has backed a committee to identify any doctor prescribing "unproven methods" (natural cures), and those doctors are persecuted and shut down in courts by Judges who previously worked for one of the tri-fecta organizations (or will be working for them soon).

Basically, in America, if a therapy works, is cheap, has no side effects or is not patentable, it gets shut down. The AMA is responsible for licensing all doctors in America, so networking with the NCI, ACS and FDA serves as their "police radar" for identifying doctors that step out of line.

The illusion of the 4 slow death "choices"

There was never really any such "war on cancer" waged by the U.S. Government. The tri-fecta knows slow death choices are where the big profits roll in, and they've brainwashed the masses into thinking these are the only choices for cancer treatment. Morris Fishbein, the biggest quack ever, ran the AMA for 40 years for the sole purpose of discrediting anything he could not control. The AMA and the FDA steal natural cure patents from scientists and then dilute the formulas, so they can post clinical trials showing the cure "doesn't work." (<http://realneo.us>)

The Rife frequency machine, Hoxsey's cures, Dr. Max Gerson's Diet, and Dr. Burzynski's antineoplastons are great examples of cures for cancer which no doctor or oncologist in America dares to mention, for fear he or she will lose their license and/or serve time in prison. There are two "wars on cancer" going on right now that have been waged for 60 years, but the big money is all behind the war that the U.S. Government wages to shut down natural cures and make them illegal.

"Cancer therapy is so toxic and dehumanizing that I fear it far more than I fear death from cancer itself." - Ralph W. Moss, Ph.D.

Fact #13: In Ancient Greece, muscular dystrophy was completely healed using Dead Sea minerals

Picture yourself in Ancient Greece, bathing in hot mineral spring water, soaking up and breathing in all the essential elements, with not a sign of muscle soreness or arthritis in sight. You're gazing at the Mediterranean Sea from your gazebo, and you feel quite healthy. You have no respiratory or muscular disorders, no allergies, no skin rashes and most of all, you simply feel relaxed.

This healing, muscle-relaxing mineral bath isn't very expensive either. In fact, the Greeks had "home field advantage" when it came to finding this most valuable natural resource, because the Dead Sea is just east of Jerusalem, about 700 miles from Athens. The Greeks and Romans also knew that the highest quality sea salt comes from the southern part of the Dead Sea, where the mineral concentration is highest.

It is said that Hippocrates, the Father of Medicine, used the therapeutic properties of bathing in mineral water to heal muscle pain and cure diseases. These therapies have been known to work since 2,000 BC, when Greek and Roman baths were daily rituals, accompanied by exercises and massage.

The waters from the Dead Sea are unique in that they contain up to 27% of various salts as compared to only 3% in normal sea water. Minerals in the Dead Sea salts improve blood circulation, thereby minimizing the inflammatory response of many conditions that are prominent in the world today. Arthritis, back pain and psoriasis have all been effectively treated through the use of Dead Sea salts.

Now picture yourself in the United States and the year is 2012. You're in the waiting room at the hospital, waiting for the results of another ECG (electrocardiograph) and an EMG (electromyograph), and you've already been diagnosed with a loss of muscle mass (called wasting). Half a dozen doctors have told you there are no known cures for muscular dystrophy, and that the goal of treatment is to "control symptoms." The doctors are all suggesting surgery and "chances for minor improvements," but you're not buying it.

One doctor even suggested that you try "gene therapy," which involves inserting your genes into a modified virus and then injecting (by the billions) this modified virus into your muscles in order to help the body part produce "functional" protein. This modified virus gene can be passed on to your children and their children too.

Not one single allopathic doctor has spoken about nutrition, sea salts, or vitamins and minerals and you are now considering consulting a naturopath and a chiropractor, who have both written best-selling books and dozens of professional articles on such topics.

Allopathic doctors in U.S. want money, not cures

Dystrophy is a Greek/Latin word meaning "faulty nutrition," thus referring to the muscle degeneration associated with disease. Actual genes for muscle proteins have defects due to deficiencies of enzymes, and some MD gene flaws have been linked to a single chromosome. MD may be mainly an inherited disease, but you can change your own genes during your lifetime, for the better. Have no doubt about it, Western diet is the primary cause of osteoporosis in most people, mainly because there is far too much calcium in typical foods (and supplements), and not enough magnesium.

How crazy has our medical society become that we cannot call minerals cures when they really do cure disease? Put down the calcium supplements and research magnesium! If your magnesium levels are too low right now, you could be losing bone density and developing osteoporosis. Muscular Dystrophy was cured in Ancient Greece because it was all about preventive medicine then, not "treating symptoms" after decades of nutrient deficiency.

Epsom salt baths are cheap and the ideal way to enjoy the amazing health benefits of magnesium and sulfate. Studies have shown these minerals are readily absorbed through the skin, regulating over 300 enzymes, reducing inflammation, helping muscle and nerve function, and preventing artery hardening.

Dead Sea salt minerals and their benefits:

- Magnesium: helps the body utilize essential nutrients.
- Sulfur: necessary for the secretion of bile from liver and filtering toxins from body.
- Iodine: vital for energy and cell metabolism.
- Potassium: maintains your water balance; helps cells absorb nourishment and expel waste. Vital for regulating muscle contractions and balancing the central nervous system.

- Bromine: helps with natural repair of body and is a natural antibiotic (doctors hate when you know this).

People are so busy today making ends meet that they don't take the time to research natural remedies, they just run to the doctor when they get sick or feel pain. Well, the research has been done, and its been available for over 4,000 years.

Fact #14: The USDA sabotaged the Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906 in order to adulterate food for commerce instead of nutrition

In 1906, Upton Sinclair wrote the hit novel "The Jungle," which vividly described the corruption of the American meatpacking industry at that time and catapulted an entire era of Journalism which exposed adulterated food, dangerous prescription drugs, and the unkempt quarters of animals bred for consumption. After realizing the prolific influence of Sinclair's book, President Theodore Roosevelt was forced to react so he signed into law the Meat Inspection Act, and then shortly after that the Pure Food and Drug Act, also known as the "Wiley Act," named after Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, the USDA's chief chemist.

Dr. Wiley had published findings of the widespread use of harmful preservatives, including the "embalming of beef." In addition to Wiley's research and exposure of adulterated food, his biggest battle was against synthetic sweeteners. Artificial sweeteners had been around since the 1870's, and Wiley called glucose and several others "champion adulterants" because they were not really food, just cheap fillers that poisoned the food industry, unbeknownst to the general public.

The USDA (United States Department of Agriculture) ironically fired Wiley, the very genius who had helped originate the "landmark document" and a health advocate who cared deeply about consumer rights. With Wiley out of the picture, the USDA exploited loopholes and exceptions of the Pure Food and Drug Act and began what turned out to be the ultimate undermining of public health for profits.

Could it be that Wiley exposed too much, or was he just used as a pawn, to create legislation that would look as if the Government was doing the "right thing," when in reality it just opened up avenues for corruption and adulteration? Also, the Meat Inspection Act would have mandated routine examinations of livestock before and after slaughter, which meant ongoing USDA inspections of processing plants. They could dig as deep as inspecting everything from carcasses to feed and fertilizers. What quickly followed was a "lucrative intervention" of the whole process by the "Big Pharma" and Big Government control of the misleading marketing.

To appreciate the remarkable depth of corruption, simply take a good look at certain exceptions and exemptions of this "pure" Act. The term "poultry product" means any poultry carcass; meaning small portions of the carcass have historically not been labeled as ingredients and are exempt from the Secretary of Agriculture's "definition" of poultry product (vegetarians and vegans beware). This exception includes the parts most meat eaters won't even eat, like guts, brains and bones.

The history of crimes against food and drug laws runs deep, but the most notable reign of this nature began in the early 1900's at the infamous U.S. Bureau of the Chemistry, which later became the Food and Drug Administration (FDA). The USDA basically was the FDA of the time, and the true motive of the Act was to shut down any therapeutic or healing claims from food, vitamins, supplements, herbs, and create a monoculture for medicine and the "legalized" adulteration of meat and poultry. Strikingly similar to today's corruption of the food and pharmaceutical industries, the most powerful companies in the early 1900's had a vested interest in undermining regulations.

Fact #15: Over 100 million Americans are chronically ill, and 50 million of those have autoimmune malfunctions and disorders

Look around and you might think the majority of people you see are fairly healthy, just going to work, engaging in activities, even smiling and talking, but every other person in the United States has a chronic condition, causing immense pain most of the time, and more than likely getting a little bit worse every day.

Over 130 million Americans are afflicted with a chronic disease or disorder, and by 2020, that figure will increase by 20%, according to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. Over 90% of seniors have at least one chronic disease, and over 75% have two or more. Over 80% of health care dollars are spent on chronic condition "management," which only prolongs the inevitable. (<http://invisibleillnessweek.com/media-toolkit/statistics>)

Due to nutrient depleted soil, processed foods, chemicals in food, and chemical prescription medications, including vaccines and flu shots, most Americans suffer from immune system deficiencies which turn into an autoimmune disorder, where the body mistakes its own cells for invading viruses or germs and attacks them.

Viruses are easy to pick up when your immune system is weak. Viruses can attack the whole body or just specific systems. The artificial growth hormones given to cows, chickens, pigs, turkeys and "farm raised" fish put millions of Americans who consume non-organic meat and fish on a regular basis at high risk for severe hormonal imbalances, specifically of the adrenal glands. Identifying symptoms of this imbalance is vital to defending against full blown adrenal failure and autoimmune disorder.

The media often portrays red meat as more toxic than chicken or fish, but that's all a huge myth. The same growth hormones that are given to cows to make them bigger are given to pigs, turkeys, chickens and farm raised fish. Plus, millions of cows are given the rBGH hormone, which forces them to produce more milk than natural, which creates infection and pus in the milk, transferring deadly hormones combined with infection to humans.

The old adage of "4 basic food groups" still drives most Americans right to the hospital with chronic ailments that are entrenched. Immediately upon visiting typical Western/Allopathic doctors with such issues, you are prescribed pharmaceuticals that contain synthetic agents, chemicals, and have horrific side effects, all in order to suppress your "complaints and symptoms," and make sure you'll be back for further treatment (patients for life program).

The accepted norm of understanding

Many Americans live their lives thinking they can eat and drink whatever is convenient and cheap, and wait for problems to arise; however, more often than not, an autoimmune disorder rears its ugly head in the form of some traumatic event, such as a heart attack, a stroke, diabetes onset, job loss due to disability, divorce (yes, it's true), or death itself.

If you're not inflicted now with a chronic disorder, the person next to you is most likely suffering from overwhelming fatigue, muscle pain, headaches, inability to handle stress, hypersensitivity, allergies, and/or inflammation. Systems that overload include the blood, the digestive tract, eyes, inner ears, glands, the central nervous system, kidneys, lungs, joints, the brain, and the largest organ of all - the skin.

Toxic lotions; the fast track to chronic illness

An average man's skin weighs 5 kilos, or 11 pounds, and an average woman's skin weighs 3 kilos, or about 7 pounds! Most commercial sun-block and sun-tan lotions are just a toxic layering that holds toxins inside your body, all while blocking out natural sunshine (vitamin D). It's not the sun that's causing cancer, it's the toxins being cooked and held in your body. This is one major reason why so many Americans suffer from vitamin D deficiency. Add toxic soaps, talcs and shampoos to the mix and it's easy to see where bad choices and cycled habits are heading.

Disease and neurological disorders are prominent mainly because people underestimate the vicious power of synthetic, toxic ingredients in food, water, and vaccines. Thanks to GMO's in about 90% of all corn and soy, toxic fluoride in over 95% of public drinking water (and bottled water), aspartame in about 30% of all food and gum, toxins in cosmetics and lotions, and aluminum, mercury and hormones in vaccines, if you're not educated and diligent about what you ingest, you are on the fast track to chronic illness.

Fact #16: Beginning in the 1960's, blood thinners were made with chemicals from rat poison and pig intestines

If you almost die from a heart attack or stroke, but go on living for a decade or two, taking expensive medications and revisiting heart doctors regularly, are you a burden on the health care system, or an asset to it? The United States health care industry makes a fortune off chronic care management, so when you find out that blood thinner meds contain toxic chemicals that kill you slowly, should you bother to do any research to find out whether there are natural remedies for blood clotting prevention which won't help kill you?

Maybe injecting into your veins samples from a pig's infected intestines or from some hormone-laced cow's heart will make things much, much worse. Most pigs and cows in the U.S. live their very short lives juiced up on artificial growth hormones, fed GMO pesticide-laden food, and then overloaded with antibiotics to stave off infection due to living in their own feces in confined quarters, where they seldom, if ever, see the sun.

Or, worse yet, maybe the toxic prescription for blood clotting contains toxins that kill rats, because it's much better to die of kidney failure than a stroke or heart attack, isn't it? Blood thinners aren't blood thinners at all anyway, so where has common sense disappeared to? America has the masses choosing between these absurd poisons called "medicine" in order to prolong a miserable, slow driven death.

Why do Americans continually fall for the same horrendous medical scam that's been killing innocents for 50 plus years? Because they still believe the FDA (Food and Drug Administration), CDC (Center for Disease Control) and the AMA (American Medical Association) are looking out for their best interest - that's why!

It's a well known fact that smoking commercial cigarettes leads to respiratory and central nervous system disorders and disease. This is because the tobacco contains GMO pesticides and ammonia, among over 1,000 other chemicals. The paper that cigarettes are rolled in contains bleach and plastic (cellulose acetate), so when burned, these chemicals infect and corrode the body, leading to cancer, diabetes, Alzheimer's, heart attacks and strokes. Research shows the same results from injecting rat poison and samples of GMO-laden animal organs into the veins in order to "prevent blood clotting."

Rat poison, infected pig guts and hormone-laced cow heart samples for your blood

For over 50 years, Western Medicine has brainwashed the masses into using the following toxic blood thinners/anti-coagulants:

- Warfarin (Coumadin): given orally; works by poisoning vitamin K receptors on platelets so that they cannot stick together; available in the rat poison department at Home Depot. (Bristol-Myers Squibb's warning: possible "major or fatal bleeding")

- Heparin: administered by injection; causes allergic reactions; more than 1,000 adverse events in the United States alone. FDA has protected Chinese distributors of this tainted pig intestine-laden drug.
- Lovenox: also called Enoxaparin; just another form of Heparin.
- Pradaxa: primarily prescribed for those with atrial fibrillation; side effects include cerebral hemorrhaging, internal bleeding, ulcers.
- Plavix: can worsen ulcers and cause intestinal bleeding and death.

If warfarin is used during pregnancy it passes through the placenta causing severe birth defects, including brain malformations, mental retardation, blindness, cardiac defects and congenital heart disease. The drug that is supposed to stave off strokes causes babies to have deformed hearts; which is comparable to prolonging cancer in the mother while giving leukemia to the baby.

Toxic blood thinners react negatively with a long list of popular foods and medicines, so even if you choose to use rat poison and infected pig guts to keep your blood from clotting, you better scrub your new super strict diet against the following: vitamin C, vitamin K, alcoholic drinks, garlic, onion, celery, carrots, broccoli, alfalfa, vegetable soups, beef (because cows are fed GMO alfalfa), aloe, antibiotics, antidepressants, antihistamines, and thyroid meds.

Then you have the media and doctors telling everyone to just, "take a baby aspirin or two every day." The chemical name for aspirin is acetylsalicylic acid. Baby aspirin is synthetic and consuming even just a few can permanently damage platelets, the kidneys, and cause bleeding ulcers.

Natural Remedies are not "Alternative Medicine", they are the healthy solution

Ever heard of daily cayenne pepper and an organic, plant-based diet? Natural blood thinners and clot prevention nutrients include omega-3 fatty acids, oil of oregano, apple cider vinegar, vitamin E, ginseng, MSM (methyl sulfonyl methane), ginger, cayenne pepper, garlic, onions, prunes, cherries, cranberries, blueberries, grapes, hawthorne berry, and even strawberries. Foods high in omega-3 are salmon, trout and mackerel, or just check out fish oil supplements. Natural enzyme therapy with bromelain (crude extract from pineapple) stops abnormal blood clotting, and it dissolves scar tissue and blood clots.

Fact #17: How Big Business married Organized Medicine and began the new reign of surgery, radiation, and drugs

By the year 1910, medicine was quickly becoming unprofitable. Even Americans were figuring out that vitamins, minerals, medicinal mushrooms and herbal tinctures could prevent and cure malnutrition and almost any virus, bacterial infection, or disease, especially with the discovery of vitamins A, B12, C and D.

In the early 1900's, doctors had the highest suicide rate of any profession due to low social standing and poverty. This was an era before U.S. soil had been depleted of nutrients due to pesticides, and before processed foods and chemical food agents had contaminated the food supply. This was before the fluoridation of water began, so cases of arthritis, cancer, Alzheimer's and heart attacks were very rare.

Then, when a man named Morris Fishbein finagled his way into running the AMA (American Medical Association), the marriage between big business and organized medicine ensued, and what followed was the beginning of the largest, most corrupt money making scheme in American history.

From Fishbein's rule forward, any scientists who discovered cures for diseases like cancer would be crushed, not only financially and legally in court battles, but their reputations would be tarnished forever in JAMA (Journal of American Medical Association). Fishbein controlled JAMA, favoring only doctors and pharmaceutical companies which slid him money under the table for the infamous AMA seal of acceptance. He called legitimate scientists who could cure sickness "quacks," and Western Medicine doctors just fell in line with what made money and kept their licenses in tact. Fishbein never practiced medicine a day in his life, but had a stranglehold on Western Medicine and the toxic medicines that unethically generated huge revenue. (<http://www.knowthelies.com/node/3944>)

After WWII, many of the evil Nazi scientists were hired fresh out of prison to run the vaccine industry and work for U.S. pharmaceutical companies and the U.S. military. These scientists who tortured Jews in concentration camps not ten years earlier were placed in charge of developing vaccines and pharmaceuticals for Americans who would soon become sick and in need of expensive chronic care. Also, as more Americans moved towards urban areas and there was less family farming, they found themselves consuming processed food which was void of nutrition, leading to and feeding the chronic care agenda that U.S. politicians had planned. (<http://www.healingcancernaturally.com/medical-history.html>)

Surgery and radiation were considered primitive and excessive

Fishbein's reign lasted for 40 years, and organized medicine systematically shut down alternative cancer therapies one by one. At first, surgery and radiation were considered primitive and excessive, but Fishbein covered up the fact that improved statistics for cancer care were really coming from improved hospital nursing care and support systems, rather than from expensive, dangerous toxic treatments. Nobel laureate James Watson declared the "war on cancer" to be a total fraud, saying the American public had been sold a "nasty bill of goods about cancer."

The hard truth is that when most people are given a few choices by their doctor, they are most likely to choose between them, instead of questioning whether any of those choices are even legitimate. Plus, if the average person gets a second or even third opinion, he/she most likely gets more of the same advice, so who would dare question a doctor who spent eight or more years in medical school, or dare to assume that their doctor may be giving them advice which stems from a corrupt corporate scheme which dates back 70 years?

Radiation is carcinogenic and mutagenic. Chemotherapy kills white blood cells which makes the body weaker and more susceptible to more cancer and other disease. Surgery often causes internal bleeding, which helps cancer cells escape and travel to other areas in the body, but people don't want to dispel the myths and admit that their "great country" could possibly want them to be sick and slowly dying from an expensive disease, which profits those who lead them down the wrong path. However, for 70 years, that has been exactly the case.

The cancer business exceeds $110 billion per year in the U.S., and a typical cancer patient spends over $100,000 on treatment, which simply leads to a slower death. The FDA has yet to approve one single nontoxic cancer agent or one non-patented cure of any kind. Are you ready to question Western Medicine yet, or follow blindly the masses that slowly crawl toward the same cliff?

Fact #18. The Flexner
Report of 1910 may have been the origin of the suppression of natural cancer prevention

Today's broken medical system has the same exact core flaw as the Flexner Report from 100 years ago, which offers severely limited choices and stifled competition which is ultimately regulated and controlled by state governments, Big Pharma and the AMA (American Medical Association). The ultimate result of this relentless campaign of misinformation and suppressed alternative therapies is decreased access to quality medical care.

For most Americans, the word conspiracy means having a paranoid delusion about the Government having complete control over a situation, but as research reveals for more than 100 years, the Flexner Report of 1910 was the beginning of a conspiracy to limit and eventually eliminate competition from non-drug, non-patentable cancer therapies and cures.

Pro-establishment organizations like the American Cancer Society (ACS), the National Cancer Institute (NCI), and the Diabetes Foundation control the news and local medical boards to the degree that the old theory of "medical conspiracy" has become a reality, offering only toxic therapies for cancer that add up to billions in profits for the "organized" medical industry. (<http://www.healingcancernaturally.com/medical-history.html>)

Five score and two years ago, a man named Abraham Flexner was hired by John D. Rockefeller to evaluate the effectiveness of therapies being taught by medical colleges and institutions, with the ultimate goal of dominating control over pharmaceuticals. With partnerships including Andrew Carnegie and JP Morgan, a new "doorkeeper" would exist to influence legislative bodies on state and federal levels to create regulations and licensing "red tape" that strictly promoted drug medicine while stifling and shutting down alternative, inexpensive natural remedies. Those medical colleges and institutions that did not submit to this superpower of regulation were crushed and put out of business.

The Flexner report was conveniently titled Medical Education in the United States and Canada and the 22 page control "mechanism" was more or less a teamsters union, and medical schools in the U.S. were cut in half by the Flexner Report in less than 15 years, from 160 to 80, and then down below 70 by World War II. This concentrated control is the direct cause of the majority of problems with health care today.

FDA's "unproven methods" are all inexpensive cures for cancer

The ACS and the FDA actually keep a list of what they call "unproven methods" for cancer. The criteria for this list include any remedy which comes in a natural form, is non-toxic, not produced by the drug industry, easily available without prescription, and anything non-patentable. The irony is that even though chemo and radiation are unproven themselves and frequently cause the spread of cancer to other parts of the body, because they are expensive and patentable, they are deceptively the mainstream choices offered as treatment.

The list of "victims" of this 100 year natural cancer cure suppression is extensive, but you may want to know a few for your own research, so here they are:

- Hoxsey Remedies
- Gaston Naessens
- Max Gerson
- Raymond "Royal" Rife
- Burzynski's Antineoplastons
(<http://www.burzynskiclinic.com/what-are-antineoplastons.html>)
- Live Cell Therapy
- Raw Foods
- SuperFoods
- Chinese Mushroom Complex

How could America, land of the free, home of the brave, become entangled in such an ethically and morally corrupt system which shuts out natural cures? Basically, in order for any "drug" or "remedy" to be approved by the FDA, the manufacturer must prove years of research costing between 20 and 100 million dollars, and then present those results without a patent for approval. Do you believe that after all of that, a company would really risk the energy, money and research on a product that could easily be stolen and patented by the most corrupt system in America, Big Pharma?

Fact #19: Dr. Henry Cotton, former head of the Psychiatric Industry, used pliers to pull out his patient's teeth to "restore mental health"

In order to understand and appreciate how insane Western Medicine became a hundred years ago and still is today, one needs to look no deeper than the story of the infamous Dr. Henry Cotton, who upon his death, was ironically referred to as "one of the most stimulating figures of our generation" by the American Journal of Psychiatry. To this day, this insane medical freak is still being referred to as a "champion of conventional medicine," despite his medieval methods that tortured innocent human beings.

Not only did Dr. Cotton use pliers to yank teeth, claiming it would "improve mental health," but he surgically removed adrenal glands, sinuses, organs, intestines, ovaries and testicles, wildly guessing this might cure bacterial infections. Coincidentally though, this medieval torture is not so different than cancer treatments today.

In just two years, from 1919 to 1921, Dr. Cotton removed over 11,000 teeth from his patients at Trenton State Hospital (TSH) in New Jersey in order to treat insanity. Then, after studying those results, he continued with this "infamous" research and removed tonsils, stomachs and colons. With women, he followed up with removal of the cervix, ovaries and fallopian tubes, and then finally the entire uterus. His death rate was over 30% after his butchering of the intestines.

Just like the Nazi's torturing of Jews who were enslaved and had no defense for abusive treatment, Cotton put his skeptical theories into practice in the U.S. during WWI, thanks to a captive audience and Western medicine's dictatorial power. Although Cotton had no evidence that mental disorders were caused by tooth decay or intestinal bacteria, his mental patients at his disposal at TSH had no legal recourse whatsoever. There were no recorded attempts to gain informed consent, and his botched theories were put to the test without any ethical or moral concerns for the humanity or welfare of his patients.

Cotton simply lied and boasted of his successes to the gullible press and naive American public, much the way the FDA, CDC, and AMA do today with chemotherapy, radiation and cancer surgery. Millions of Americans are subjected to these obtuse, crude ways of dealing with a cellular disease which is caused by chemical ingestion. Rarely does going "under the knife" cure cancer, but instead spreads the cancerous cells to other parts of the body. Plus, chemotherapy and radiation break down the entire immune system and therefore set up naive patients for infection, more disease, and an expensive, slow, painful and miserable death.

As Dr. Cotton aged, his procedures became more radical and insane, especially because he had no political, legal, or medical ramifications for his actions. His reaction to the high death rate from colon operations was that he had simply not been "thorough" enough, and believed that he missed "pockets of infection" during the surgery. He would go on to remove more teeth and more areas of the colon. It's a very similar story today when surgeons operate on cancer patients, telling them "we got it all," only to hear a year or two later, from the filthy rich doctor/oncologist, that the cancer has relocated, and the only solution to the problem is more surgery, chemo and radiation.

Which is more insane: pulling teeth to fix mental problems or treating a chemically driven disease (cancer) with toxic chemicals?

Most Americans today are fear-tortured into undergoing barbaric medical treatments by their Allopathic doctors, without any knowledge or advice about non-invasive, natural remedies. Not much has changed since the early 1900's in this regard. In fact, Dr. Cotton warned the public that the mental health crisis was "threatening the nation," saying it was so serious that something had to be done, and that "anything was better than nothing."

Dr. Cotton's insane treatments were not all voluntary either. Many patients were ruthlessly dragged kicking and screaming to the operating table, and then violently strapped down so the "treatment" could begin. Others actually paid big bucks to be tortured, just like for the unnecessary surgery and toxic pharmaceuticals administered today.

At one point, Dr. Cotton publicly announced a cure rate of 85 percent, but later admitted that his statistic included those who died from the treatment, because they were "no longer suffering" from the illness. This is strikingly similar to the ACS/CDC statistics claiming they've cured cancer when post-treatment remission lasts five years, even when patients die shortly after that period.

Fact #20: Chemotherapy drugs are derived from the Nazi's WWII mustard gas chemicals

Mustard gas, also known as sulfur mustard, is by far the most horrific chemical weapon ever used in history. Hitler's genocide of more than 6,000,000 Jews (half of all Jewish people at the time) by the use of gas chambers and ovens is still recent history. Yet, the untold irony of this lesson is that it's actually the American political and pharmaceutical "regime" which continued and catapulted the use of a form of Mustard gas as "therapy" for cancer, eventually turning it into the mainstream method of treatment. For several decades now, the United States has been making a fortune off the misery that chemo brings to the victims of a plagued medical system best known as "chronic care management."

Mustard gas, Bis-(2-chloroethyl) sulfide, was first synthesized in 1860 by Frederick Guthrie, co-founder of the London Institute of Physics. Guthrie first documented the toxic effects of mustard gas by applying his mixture of ethylene and sulfur dichloride to his own skin. It was later mass-produced under the name "Lost" by Bayer (a German company then) and various mutations of the compound have been used by world powers to kill thousands of people.

After the Nazi empire fell, what came next was the well-planned onslaught of toxic food, followed by a directly correlated chemotherapy and radiation treatment program for chemically induced disease. This evil plan became the perfect money making machine that tricked cancer victims into thinking something positive was occurring, only to bring them back for more expensive torture.

German scientists working for the U.S. knew "mustard" chemo brought only temporary tumor remission, and if ingestion of toxins continued, cancer returned with a vengeance

Sulfur mustard is a vesicant, meaning it destroys mucous membranes. High doses cause nausea, vomiting, and respiratory failure. This volatile poison prevents the normal sequence of DNA replication, depleting the lining of the gastrointestinal tract and causing massive loss of bone marrow. In simple terms, sulfur mustard is basically the "egg" from which chemo has hatched.

During WWII, Dwight D. Eisenhower stockpiled 100 tons of mustard gas on the S.S. John Harvey when it was stationed in Italy's Harbor, but the Nazi airstrikes destroyed it. Survivors died soon thereafter, and autopsies revealed they suffered from profound lymphopenia, as well as suppression of myeloid cell lines, which brings us to the grim chemotherapy facts.

Chemotherapy kills white blood cells, which are necessary for the immune system to fight off infection. Myeloma is a cancer that begins in plasma cells, a type of white blood cell. Over time, these abnormal plasma cells collect in the bone marrow, damaging the solid part of the bone. The incidence rate of myeloma has increased 25% in the U.S. just since 1975! Also, data on liver cancer shows a dismal, failing program in which death rates have increased over 280% since 1975, and more than 60% of Americans diagnosed with leukemia die from it.

Clinical trials prove that nitrogen mustard helps tumors temporarily recede, but that medication cannot continue perpetually, because it induces neutropenia (the severe reduction of white blood cells in bone marrow that ingest bacteria). Therefore, after mandatory withdrawal of medication, there is an abrupt return of the tumors. This temporary "miracle" is nothing more than a medical "supernova," and the end result is more horrific news for the patient. (<http://natamcancer.org/page65.html>)

Feed Americans toxins, then give them chemo

Long story made short, American politicians and Big Pharma's clan of highly paid executives (Nazi scientists) sat down and planned the use of chemical warfare as a "treatment" for cancer, knowing it was not a cure at all. This evil, conspiring conglomerate of medical villains used all of the invaluable information German scientists already discovered and tested about food and pharmaceutical toxins which cause cancer, and they designed an empire. This is now the driving force of the great cancer epidemic in America; the silent, undercover genocide that functions like a huge corporation.

Most Americans have no idea that chemotherapy has a miserable 5% success rate, and that is with only a few, rare cancers. Despite increased use of multiple drug chemo, breast cancer survival rates have not improved at all over the past decade, and there is no documented proof of improvement from first metastasis. On top of all of that, survival time has actually been shortened for some patients given chemo.

It is a researched fact that very few doctors would take their own medicine or give it to family members if they contracted cancer. In one survey, 75% of doctors, surgeons and oncologists said they would never take chemotherapy due to its high toxicity and ineffectiveness.

When a Sloan-Kettering chemotherapist found out he had advanced cancer, he told his colleagues, "Do anything you want, but no chemotherapy." (<http://campaignfortruth.com>)

Fact #21: Prescription drugs are the third leading cause of death in the United States, averaging 400 deaths per day

Imagine going to the doctor because you have symptoms of some illness and you just can't figure out what's wrong. The doctor prescribes some pharmaceutical you've never heard of before, and sends you to the drug store to pick it up. The next day, you wake up in a hospital bed, and the doctor is telling you that your heart stopped, and you nearly died last night from the prescription medicine, even though you took the exact dose prescribed.

Now let's say you already know that every third person in the U.S. is diagnosed with cancer and/or heart disease at some point in their lifetime, so you've been taking real good care of yourself, watching what you eat and drink, only to find out that your prescription for that minor rash, allergy or headache almost killed you! So what went wrong?

Most prescription drugs have a long list of other medications and foods that are NOT to be combined with them, but how can you cross-check it when most food and medicine ingredients are so convoluted that you need a medical and nutrition degree to interpret them?

Did you know that gelatin capsules are made from animal's connective tissues? Many heart medications warn patients not to mix them with beef products. Did you also know that most vaccines and flu shots also contain gelatin, along with mercury, aluminum, GMO bacteria, live viruses, sorbitol and formaldehyde? What if you take your allergy or heart meds one morning and then go get a flu shot or the next swine flu (scam) vaccine? (<http://www.naturalnews.com/011764.html>)

The greatest irony in the United States is that no person is legally allowed to say that any food, vitamin, mineral, antioxidant or supplement of any kind can CURE anything, especially a disease or ailment, even though there are thousands of natural remedies which have proven success rates, even since biblical times. In fact, nobody is dying from natural remedies, but 400 people in the U.S. are dropping dead every day from "medicine" which is prescribed by doctors who went to school for 8 years or more to learn how to scribble the name of a new drug on a pad of paper. If they dish out their "quota" for the month, it gets them front row seats at their favorite sporting event, or a trip to the Bahamas, or maybe even a week of free golf at a luxury hotel at Hilton Head.

U.S. prescription medication statistics (Warning: this is not from a horror movie)

- 250,000 Americans are hospitalized each year from prescription drug reactions
- 3 billion prescriptions were filled in 2011
- Over 60,000 Americans contracted Parkinson's as a side effect of prescription meds in 2011 (ie: Stelazine or Haldol)

- 7000 deaths a year due to medication errors in hospitals
- Over 80,000 deaths/year due to infections in hospitals (prescription drugs suppress symptoms of the real problem)
- Over 100,000 deaths per year due to side effects (including heart failure and suicide)
- Taking 3 or more prescriptions at once exponentially increases chance of death

America's Healthcare System is a dismal failure

Although healthcare costs are rising quickly, the quality of drugs and vaccines is deteriorating rapidly. Many blood pressure and cardiac drugs actually suppress the heart's muscular function, which is the LAST thing a weakened heart needs.

The American medical system provides no advice on natural remedies, therefore coercing millions of people every day into making choices between toxins that pose as medication. It's now a cold, hard fact that pharmaceutical drugs kill more people every year than traffic accidents. Still, it's very difficult to convince the general public they cannot continue to eat and drink toxic foods while searching for a miracle cure through magic pills, but 400 humans in the United States will "see that light" at the end of the tunnel in the next 24 hours. Fact #22: Most non-organic food today contains Zyklon B, the same pesticide ingredient used by the Nazi's to gas the Jews to death in WWII

Many Americans have visited the Holocaust Museum in Washington D.C. to learn more about the 6 million person massacre that took place in Germany during World War II, and to pay respect to the human beings who suffered and died in the gas chambers at the hands of the world's most psychotic terrorist to ever live, Adolf Hitler. Other Americans simply visit the grocery store, a restaurant, or fast food establishment to unknowingly purchase and ingest some Zyklon B, the same exact nerve gas used for genocide just 70 years ago.

Over the next 8 years, at least 6,000,000 Americans will die from cancer, a disease caused by the ingestion of chemicals. Will the history books 50 years from now mention the fact that the U.S. hired Nazi Scientists fresh out of prison, the same ones who created Zyklon B and the gas chambers, to create pesticides for U.S. agriculture and chemotherapy treatment?

Politics is about money, not people's livelihood. Most Americans who have heard the term GMO have no idea what it means. It flies under the masses' radar. Many people think GMO means watermelons or lemons that have no seeds, or gigantic strawberries and tomatoes. Some people think it means the fruits have more vibrant colors. The truth is hard to handle, and this horror story must be told correctly to appreciate the depth of destruction and plague that GMO engineering besets upon our world.

From the Nazi gas chambers to your dinner plate

You would never drink an ounce of pesticide as part of a bet, because just from the odor, you know you would end up in the hospital getting your stomach pumped or suffering from cardiac arrest. But consuming food made of pesticide contributes to central nervous system disorders in the short term and cancer in the long term. (<http://seedsofdeception.com/65-health-risks-section-2/65-health-risks-section-2-summary>)

Most people who get cancer have no idea why and wonder what they did to "deserve" such a horrible fate. People who consume balanced, healthy meals think they are safe from harm's way, not knowing their food is loaded with pesticides from the inside out. Even beef, chicken, pork and turkey comes from animals that have consumed GM alfalfa, corn meal, and other pesticide-laden feed their whole lives. This toxic feed causes cancer in ALL mammals, and you are what you eat.

Molecular engineers are working right now in laboratories for Bayer and Monsanto, two of the largest biotech companies in the world, gene-splicing vegetable seedlings with poisonous pesticides. The majority of non-organic products Americans eat daily contain Zyklon B (hydrogen cyanide), and research shows that GM vegetables lead to the mutation of cells, fueling the development of malignant tumors and various forms of cancer. (<http://breathing.com/articles/canola-oil.htm>)

The Cancer Holocaust is underway in America

Pesticide is the toxic umbrella of all pest control for agriculture. It contains up to 4,000 chemicals, most of which have never been tested for safety for animal or human consumption. Pesticide is meant to destroy all living things which cause loss to agriculture, including insects, weeds, rodents, fish, turtles, rabbits, and so on.

GMO vegetables and all of their by-products are not labeled as GMO in the United States. There are over 350 million acres of Zyklon B-treated agriculture in America. Currently, 93% of soy, 95% of canola, 86% of corn, and 95% of sugar beets contain Zyklon B, and you can't just "wash it off." Why sugar beets? They are used to make MSG, which causes migraine headaches, cancer and obesity.

The most lethal effect of Zyklon B is destruction of the enzyme system responsible for cell respiration. However, cancer cannot survive in well-oxygenated cells, and that's why juicing organic (non-GMO) vegetables is the ultimate prevention and cure for cancer.

Zyklon B, the insecticide used to BREED AND TREAT cancer

In 1941, the Nazi SS at Auschwitz (the main extermination camp) used Zyklon B poison gas for the mass extermination of human beings. Disguised as shower rooms, the SS pushed 2,000 prisoners at a time into underground rooms which filled up with the deadly gas, without an odiferous warning agent.

Bayer, BASF and Hoechst manufactured chemical weapons during WWI and WWII (Bayer even marketed heroin in 1898 as a cough medicine for children). The 3 companies merged to form the massive German conglomerate IG Farben (Interessengemeinschaft Farben), which funded Hitler's election campaign. These evil companies catapulted Hitler to power, and now Bayer and Monsanto function as the I.G. Farben of yesterday.

In fact, Bayer CropScience was formed in 2002 when Bayer AG acquired Aventis CropScience and named it Bayer Crop Protection, a wolf in sheep's clothing. When you see any of the following names, you should recall that the companies which enabled Hitler's genocide are the same conglomeration which is feeding Americans pesticide today and then using the same exact poison as chemotherapy to finish the job:

- RoundUp & RoundUp Ready Crops
- Glufosinate
- Liberty Link (ie: long grain rice)
- CropScience
- Chemotherapies (Insecticides): Adriamycin, Carboplatin, Paraplatin, Cisplatin, Platinol, Cyclophosphamide, Cytoxan, Neosar, Docetaxel, Taxotere, Doxorubicin, Docetaxel, Taxotere, Doxorubicin, Erlotinib, Tarceva, Etoposide, VePesid, Fluorouracil, Gemcitabine, Gemzar, Imatinib Mesylate, Gleevec, Irinotecan, Camptosar, Methotrexate, Folex, Mexate, Amethopterin, Paclitaxel, Taxol, Abraxane, Sorafinib, Nexavar, Sunitinib, Sutent, Topotecan, Hycamtin, Vincristine, Oncovin, Vincasar, PFS, Vinblastine, and Velban. (Also research blood thinners as rat poison).

(<http://www.sourcewatch.org/index.php?title=Monsanto>)

Bayer is the world's leading pesticide manufacturer and the world's seventh largest seed company. Bayer's Glufosinate Weedkiller (CropScience) is mutagenic and causes premature birth, intra-uterine death and abortions in the lab rats that have been tested.

So how does America "treat" tumors that are caused from ingesting pesticide? With more of the same! The logic is so far from sane, its no wonder any person in there right mind is coerced into accepting it. Chemo destroys trillions of healthy cells just to get to a billion cell tumor. It's like if you have a poisonous spider in your house, do you pour 100 gallons of bug killer all over the floors and set off a couple hand grenades?

Nothing has changed in terms of Conventional cancer therapy in 50 years and cancer statistics are rising. In fact, 94 out of every 100 patients die from chemo and radiation within a 10 year period. The cancer holocaust is well under way.

Fact #23: The USA has a long history of grossly abusing live animals in the name of research

You've heard all the slogans by organizations supposedly raising funds for research to find a cure for the top 4 killing "machines" in the United States of America, including "Walk for the cure," "March for the cure," and "Rally for the cure," but cancer, heart disease, diabetes, and Alzheimer's already have cures, so why not change the slogan to "Walk for the release of the cure?" It's not hard to find people who support the abuse of animals, including live dissections and maximum radiation tests, which put animals through unbearable pain, all in the name of medical research and "saving human lives," but is that what's really going on?

You may want to ask yourself why there are so many organic food fanatics lately, screaming for rights to have toxic GMO foods labeled as such, and for the state and local governments to stop fluoridating water, and to protect the right to sell minerals and vitamin supplements without any FDA "regulations." The uninformed masses, that the Western Medicine Dictatorship leads directly towards disease, are getting educated quickly about how conventional disease is bred and fed, rather than existing as "genetic" and "incurable." Not only does preventive medicine go a long way, but it eliminates the need for abusive animal testing to find cures for diseases which are caused by chemicals in foods, water, prescription medicine, and the environment.

Perpetuating the myth that Western Medicine is still searching for cures to diseases

The United States continues research on live animals for one main reason: to perpetuate the myth that Western Medicine is still searching for cures to diseases, so the masses will continue donating money to foundations, which puts millions of dollars in the back pockets of the CEO's and "Vice Presidents" who run them. If testing toxins and chemicals on animals were to come to a grinding halt, the "sheeple" of America might start to question the establishment, and stop giving money to filthy rich "non-profit" organizations which simply make matters worse.

No parent would ever sacrifice their child "in the name of medical research," and let doctors use archaic methods to test out new drugs, new chemo and radiation treatments, and do live dissections in order to see how organs react to toxic meds. Despite old theories that animals can't feel pain, we know they do. We also know that babies who are separated from their mothers will experience intense psychological withdrawals, so we don't need to test that either. (<http://teachkind.org/pdf/animalind.pdf>)

Studies published recently in medical journals reveal that animal experimenters are wasting lives and resources. Plus, rats have 96% of the same genetic makeup of humans, so to test any other animals is a complete waste of time (not to say that's even ok). Even when the FDA claims new pharmaceuticals are safe because they've been tested on animals, there is no correlation to say they're safe for humans, and the FDA knows this. Testing drugs on animals is simply smoke and mirrors; a ploy to convince humans everything is "under control" and that Western Medicine and Allopathic doctors are to be trusted.

Disease is Big Business

In 2011, the United States gobbled up billions of dollars (40% of all research funding from NIH/National Institute of Health) for animal experimentation, and as funding in 2012 continues to increase, the U.S. ranks 49th in the world in life expectancy and 2nd worse in infant mortality in the developed world! Still support animal testing? It's a complete hoax.

In the U.S. right now, over 4,000 chemicals used to manufacture cigarettes are legal, including ammonia! Over 70,000 synthetic, chemical agents are approved by the FDA as food ingredients (gelatin and pink slime included). Genetically modified food dominates, with over 90% of popular vegetable-based products (corn, soy and canola) containing toxic pesticides. So while America feeds its citizens toxic waste in order to drive disease statistics higher, how can any person ever believe that animal testing is legitimate and excusable?

The only U.S. law that governs the use of animals in labs is the Animal Welfare Act, which allows animals to be shocked, poisoned, isolated, starved, burned, addicted to drugs and brain-damaged with chemo and radiation. No experiment is considered "out of bounds" ethically or morally.

The medical community and science in general can perform all necessary experiments on cell cultures and cancer samples and receive much faster, more accurate results than these outdated, cruel methods of animal experimentation. Vivisection, the sickening process of operating on a live, fully conscious animal is medieval. Many animals kill themselves just trying to escape (<http://www.vivisectioninfo.org>).

Still, every year, tens of millions of animals are dissected, infected, injected, gassed, and burned in laboratories all in vain. Medical students have numerous alternatives. Students and teachers can choose from a wide range of exciting and humane programs, such as computer and CD-Rom programs, which have stunning graphics and accurate information about anatomy, biochemistry, genetics, physiology and ecology.

Remember, we're not living in 1912, but 2012. It's time to treat every living creature with the respect and humanity it deserves.

Fact #24: Gaston Naessens's incredible invention, the 'Somatoscope,' was suppressed by science

When Gaston Naessens, a gifted, genius scientist from France, began playing with wavelengths of light, magnetic fields and polarized filters over 70 years ago, he ended up developing a microscope which provided a 30,000 diameter resolution, which was like inventing the Hubble telescope for cancer prevention. Naessens called his microscope the Somatoscope because of his theory of somatids (meaning "little bodies" in Greek), which are shape-shifting organisms originally responsible for cancer and many other degenerative diseases. For the first time in history, cancer's insidious stages of development were visible, thanks to the new cancer "hubble."

Cancer is actually a simple disease with a simple cause and a simple cure, but Western Medicine makes billions upon billions of dollars keeping Americans in the dark and breeding fear, the only motive that works for coercing millions of naive people into choosing between treatments which only perpetuate and worsen a chemically driven killer.

The cause: Cancer is caused when cells are deprived of oxygen. Those cells then become mutations and multiply uncontrollably, winning battles and wars with your good cells, until they take over a vital organ or ultimately break down the immune system, leading to death. But cancer is caused and fueled by chemicals. Chemical "agents" in food, water and the environment help cancer cells "feed themselves." Yet when cells are oxygenated, cancer cannot survive. So, the question is, how do you oxygenate cells to keep them from mutating?

The cure: After 40 years of research in bacteriology and biology, Gaston Naessens discovered that cancer cells go through many stages (at least 16), which he could now view in action through the Somatoscope. His research was not some overnight miracle either, but had roots in research from another French scientist, Antoine Bechamp, who postulated in the 1870's about these shape-changing micro-organisms, which he named microzymia. Naessens figured out a way to keep the cancer cells from feeding themselves after the first few stages of development, before they had a chance to invade neighboring healthy cells and steal their nutrients. Naessens documented with great detail the 16 stage somatid mutation cycle.

In his view, cancer was a controllable illness which was preventable and curable, and he was right. The Somatoscope enabled Naessens to observe, identify and classify bacterial forms as they evolved and devolved. The first 3 stages of this development of the somatid are seen in the blood of all individuals, but whether or not these bacteria devolve further is based on the internal environment, namely the presence of carcinogens in the blood. The somatid can then develop "trefons," or hormone-like substances which initiate cell division.

Basically, when a body's biochemistry becomes unbalanced from toxins, such as from excessive alcohol, smoking, a poor diet, stress and/or chemical poisoning (like chemo), the somatids undergo 13 extra stages of mutation. He tried killing these cells with radiation, but it did not work.

Naessens then developed a substance he named 714X (after his initials), which he fed to the mutating cells. He discovered that the reason cells attacked neighboring cells was to rob them of nitrogen compounds, which in turn paralyzed the immune system. The 714X was composed of camphor, ammonium chloride, ammonium nitrate, sodium chloride, ethanol and water. He would inject it into a lymph node to provide for the most effective distribution throughout the body. It worked. The cancer cells stopped attacking neighboring cells, the immune system came back to life and that was the end of the cancer.

The dark-field microscope

Naessens breakthrough in cancer research can also be attributed to his "unorthodox" use of the dark-field microscope, which creates a field of vision so dark that the organisms are lit up, usually in outline form, which was like going from looking for stars during the daytime to seeing them at night.

In the 1940s, while experimenting on horses, Naessens developed an anti-cancer, antibody serum he called Anablast. It was so successful in Europe that the French medical authorities dropped the hammer on him, closing his laboratory, fining him relentlessly, and confiscating most of his equipment. Fortunately, Naessens escaped with his Somatoscope and fled to Quebec.

Naessens kept a low profile for years, afraid of further persecution. Then, in 1971, fortune smiled upon him. David Steward, head of the prestigious McDonald-Stewart Foundation, ran into Naessens serendipitously, and decided to help him further his research at a secret lab in the countryside, just outside of Montreal, far from the orthodox cancer-cure-suppressing establishment.

Patients who were previously on cancer's "death row" testified at trials on behalf of Naessens and his 714X treatments. Patients who were dying of stomach and prostate cancer swore in court that Naessens treatments saved them, and rightfully so, since the court cases were more than ten years after the witnesses were diagnosed as terminal.

Even as late as 1981, one witness from California, Gary Diamond, testified he had been diagnosed with Hodgkin's Disease and given the maximum doses of chemo and radiation, after which his condition worsened. The patient later received 60 days of 714X injections and made a complete recovery.

"There is not one, but many cures for cancer available. But they are all being systematically suppressed by the ACS (American Cancer Society), the NCI (National Cancer Institute) and the major oncology centers. They have too much of an interest in the status quo." - Dr. Robert Atkins, M.D.

Fact #25: Organized

western medicine has

conspired for decades

to suppress knowledge

of Indigenous Medicine

Plant and mineral-based medicines have been preventing, treating and curing disease and illnesses since mankind has been making calendars. Yet, Western Medicine would have the masses believe that because a few vaccines and some surgical procedures came along in the mid-to-late 1900's, that now only Allopathic doctors should be wholly trusted with health and medicine advice, when in fact, it's just the other way around.

Indigenous, traditional healing is an ancient, deeply rooted practice worldwide, and the body and its complex systems are best nurtured by Mother Nature herself, not by synthetic chemical agents and rough-shod surgery, which pollute the body with toxins and cut out body parts when they are weak or "malfunctioning," as if there is no alternative.

Right now in America, 400 people die every single day from taking pharmaceuticals, and since Allopathic doctors have no training in nutrition, the choices they give their patients do not include natural remedies of any kind, which is a complete insult to thousands of years of proven healing "medicine." Indigenous medicine comes directly from nature, not some laboratory where scientists need masks and gloves to concoct your "treatment," that which they would never even take themselves or give to their own family members.

The indigenous, "unpaved" roads to perfect health

Take a moment right now and imagine yourself walking through the rainforests of Ecuador, surrounded by the soothing harmonies of birds and the canopy of distant rustling of millions of tree leaves in the breeze. You glance around at the wild foods and medicinal plants, and then you realize you're standing next to a 50 foot Sangre de Drago tree. That's when your tour guide makes a small incision on the tree bark and some anti-cancer tree sap flows right out (proanthocyanidins). The Shuar Indians have been using it for centuries, just raw and wild, right out of the tree! You wish you could just fill a thousand bottles and take it back to all the children in America who have cancer right now.

Now take a mental hike, high up into the Andes Mountains in Peru, where a root vegetable called Maca (Lepidium mayenii) grows, similar to radishes. This herb, also known as Peruvian ginseng, is an aphrodisiac which enhances both the male and female libido! Not only does maca improve a man's sperm flow and sperm count, it even relieves womens' post-menopausal symptoms (depression and anxiety) without side effects.

Now, did you know you can take a little "indigenous" healing plant and herb adventure without leaving your own neighborhood? It's true. Dandelion (Taraxacum officinalis) can be used for dozens of medicinal purposes. The whole plant is useable before it flowers, but only the leaves while the plant is in flower. Both the leaves and the roots are high in the essential minerals potassium and calcium, and can be used as a diuretic. (<http://www.cancertutor.com/Cancer02/DandelionRoot.html>)

Plus, dandelion is unlike Western Medicine's over-the-counter diuretics, which conversely deplete the body of those same essential minerals. Also, the fresh roots are one of the oldest known remedies for constipation, and for kidney stones and gall stones! Plus, the sugars levulose and inulin make dandelion beneficial for the treatment of diabetes. On top of all that, the milky juice has been used to remove warts. You certainly won't hear any of that advice from your Allopathic doctor, even if he/she did know.

Now without thinking of cigarettes, drift back to a time when tobacco was being used for dozens of medicinal purposes. The Aztecs used it to calm nerves and quell chills caused by fever. The leaves (poultices) were used as decongestants, anti-inflammatory agents (toothaches) and emetics. Leaf teas were used to treat urinary tract infections, diarrhea and even convulsions. Tobacco was also utilized as an antiseptic and as antivenin for snake bites after the poison was sucked out.

Curing cancer with Indigenous Medicine is and has been a reality

Now, you may be thinking that indigenous foods, herbs and tinctures sound great, but that they can't hold a candle to what modern biologists and chemists have discovered about DNA and cellular function as applied to curing disease and infection, but you're wrong. For centuries, Chinese healers have used a medicinal plant called Thunder God Vine (botanical name Tripterygium wilfordii Hook F) as an anti-inflammatory, and now as an anti-tumor agent, mainly because it contains the active compound (triptolide) which helps control the "machinery" of genes on the cellular level.

This natural medicine, Triptolide, has been researched heavily by molecular scientists at Johns Hopkins, who have discovered that it blocks the growth of over 60 cancer cell lines, and even causes many of those cancers to die.

Watch out though, don't let the FDA or the CDC find out you're using a natural cure for cancer, or you might be introduced to a different kind of "cell" for treason.
